Studying in the United Kingdom

The UK is one of the world's leading destinations for international students, offering globally recognised degrees, strong career prospects, and a vibrant multicultural environment. Each year, students from across the globe choose the UK for undergraduate, postgraduate, and doctoral programmes at prestigious universities known for academic excellence and innovation.

UK degrees are highly specialised and typically completed in just three years at undergraduate level, allowing students to enter the workforce sooner. The country also offers strong post-study prospects through the Graduate Route, which allows students to stay and work for up to three years after graduation.

With its combination of academic prestige and real-world opportunities, the United Kingdom is a powerful launchpad for global careers.

UK Education System

The UK education system is internationally recognised for its academic excellence and strong industry connections. With a wide range of universities and programmes, students benefit from shorter course durations, research-driven education, and strong post-graduation employability.

Types of Institutions

The UK is home to some of the world's oldest and most celebrated universities. Highly regarded institutions such as Oxford, St Andrews, and University College London offer high-quality education, but the UK's strength lies in its depth of quality.

Intakes and Deadlines

The main intake for UK universities with the widest range of courses is in September (Autumn/Fall). The January (Winter) and May (Summer) intakes offer limited courses but less competition for university and admissions, along with the opportunity to pursue specialised postgraduate courses.

Work-Integrated Learning and Internships

Many universities offer placement years, internships, and industry partnerships to help students gain practical experience. Sandwich courses in particular can help students get access to relevant job opportunities, allowing them to gain related professional experience over the course of their studies.

Scholarships and Financial Aid

The UK government, universities, external institutions, and private benefactors offer many scholarships each year to support international students pursuing education in the UK. Some scholarships offer deductions on tuition fees while others offer additional funding towards the cost of living, travel, and other essential costs students may have to bear during their time in the UK.

Working While Studying

International students on a Student Visa in the UK can work up to 20 hours per week during term time and full-time during holidays.

UK Student Visa

International students planning to study in the UK must apply for a Student Visa.

Application Process

- Apply to the chosen university, receive an offer, and acquire the Certificate of Acceptance of Studies (CAS letter)
- Apply for a visa online through the UK Visas and Immigration (UKVI) portal and pay the application fee
- Provide financial proof for tuition and living expenses, and pay the Immigration Health Surcharge (IHS) to access NHS healthcare
- Attend a biometric appointment and visa interview (if required) at a UK Visa Application Centre

Visa Extensions

Students can extend their visa to stay longer and continue their course or study a new course. The application must be sent in before the current visa expires, and students are allowed to stay in the UK until they receive a decision.

Post-Study Work Opportunities and Permanent Residency Pathway

The Graduate Route allows international graduates to stay in the UK for two years after completing a bachelor's or master's degree and three years after completing a PhD. No job sponsorship is required to stay and work under this route, and graduates can switch to a Skilled Worker Visa if they receive a job offer from an approved UK employer.

Dependent Visas

Dependent visas are available for a student's husband, wife, civil partner, unmarried partner, or child under 18 years old. This is only available to students enrolled in a PhD or other doctorate (RQF level 8), or a research-based higher degree.
